

Nonnie Hood Parent Resource Center Accepts Resignation of Executive Director, Begins Replacement Search

(CORNING, NY October 1, 2020) – The Board of Directors of the Nonnie Hood Parent Resource Center (PRC) has accepted the resignation of Executive Director Shena Rossettie and begun a search for a new executive director.

The job description and application link are available at www.indeed.com.

“It has been an honor to work alongside PRC staff to serve families with young children in our community.” said Rossettie. “I look forward to helping the PRC welcome its next director, who will be joining a mission-focused organization with deep community ties and a dedicated team of staff and volunteers.”

Rossettie has served as the PRC’s executive director since January 2018. Since then, the center has undergone facility renovations, expanded its open hours to receive almost 10,000 visits a year, increased its volunteer program by 50%, and added new community partners like The Rockwell Museum.

The PRC is expected to reopen its family center this fall with special modifications to ensure safety during COVID-19, including a high-density filtration system and private play zones and toys. The center has been closed since March due to PAUSE NY and HVAC renovations in its facility. During this time, the PRC has offered a variety of virtual and outdoor programming for families.

“We greatly appreciate Shena’s leadership, especially during this difficult year for organizations and families,” said Board President Brittany Linder. “Recently she led the PRC to offer alternative programming while our center was under HVAC renovations, and gathered an advisory team of volunteers and staff to develop safe and creative reopening plans. Shena leaves the PRC a strong organization with great community support. We wish her the best in her next endeavors.”

Rossettie will continue in her role as executive director until her replacement is selected and trained, with an expected transfer of leadership in January 2021.
